I have to admit one thing you are a really neat person and very wild. Stay that way, you a lot of fun to be around with. I know I'll be seen more of you (skinny woman) because of my (fat woman) she says you guys make a good couple. We'll be seen each other

Friends Always

Reserved for fat Woman

Well Reg this it. Love Viviana.
No I'm only kidding. We've had alot of great times and I'll always remember them.
Remember our P.E. classes and the Bloomin' butterflies we used to catch. Also the football games where we would stay sober and would never have parties at the Blazer. Also we never took showers in the street when we were drunk.
Remember the times I would spend the night at your house and you & your brothers would get me drunk then you would make me do things so I could com back again. How about all the telephone calls where you would be hammering your head.
Reg we've had some pretty good times and I know it wouldn't have happened unless I was around. I know how much you like me and I can see why. And I like you to-sometimes-
No, I'll never forget you and all the memories we share. I hope they will continue to grow. Especially because I pay so.
Hey Reg when do you want to grow pink hair again? (Remember Punk Rock Day!) I think we looked pretty hot. Well Reg I better go now because I'm running out of orgasmic thoughts.

Love Always

Forever, good friends are forever. They never fade even when they're weathered by the years. Together, good friends stay together whether we're far or near You always seem to hear when I call. What I'm trying to say is though we're apart, you're in my heart to stay. You are my friend.

The first "Big Event" of our school year is Spirit Day, this year held at Silver Strand State Park. All classes enjoyed a day of relaxation and fun in the sun before the real routine of the school year commenced. Spirit Day is: Freshmen coming aboard, Sophomores breaking the trend, Juniors anticipating upperclass status, and Seniors affirming their authority.

Spirit Week

The degree of participation in Spirit Week '80 was tremendous! A great number of students and faculty added to the fun of our dressup days, topped off by Friday, October 31, Halloween. Something new this year was the "Slave Sale" and auctioneer Mr. Kinney made it worth remembering! The slaves subsequently had to perform some pretty imaginative chores too! Thanks A.S.B. and all classes for a truly spirited Homecoming week.

Homecoming Dance '80

The Homecoming Dance of 1980, held at the Plaza International Hotel, was an enchanting evening. The featured band was Phoenix and the theme was "Treasure." For years to come many will remember this special night.

Slave Day '81

Slave Day was a great success with slaves being sold from $5.00-$12.00. The slaves were candidates of the Sweetheart's Court. Slaves pushed their masters, walked them to class and carried books and other items for them.

Queen Christina Acuna and King Eduardo Yagues reigned over the Sweethearts festivities which took place on the evening of February 15, 1981. This formal dance was held at the Cafe del Rey Moro in Balboa Park, and the band was Jasmine.

Bid sales were slow during the beginning of the week, leading to a threat of cancellation, but it turned out to be an enjoyable evening, finally realizing a small profit for the A.S.B.

Masses

Our school masses unify the Marian community in the expression of our love of God, our families, and our friends. They give us the opportunity to reflect on the gifts we have received and to ask for further help and forgiveness.

I may be just a foolish dreamer
but I don't care
Cause I know my happiness is waiting out there, somewhere.
I'm searching for that silver lining
Horizons that I've never seen
Oh, I'd like to take just a moment
And dream my dreams.

Oh, I'd like to greet the sun each morning
and wait amongst the stars at night
I'd like to know the taste of honey
In my life, in my life.
Well, I've had so many pains
And I've played so many games
Oh but everyone finds the right way
Somehow — some way — some day.

I'd like to fly far away from here
Where my mind can see fresh and clear
And I'd find a love that I longed to see
Where everybody could be what they want to be
What they want to be.

I wish the world were truly happy living as one.
I wish the word they call freedom
Someday will come, someday will come.

Special Thirty-Hour Service

Marian's unique program of service to the community has received much positive publicity during the past year. The 30-hour requirement of MHS students has benefitted numerous groups and individuals throughout the S.D. area, as students work in many capacities with one single purpose: to help others. Some students (pictured here) worked at a camp for the mentally retarded; others worked (without pay, of course) in hospitals, as tutors, or in various parish activities. All in all, most students have found it to be a very enriching experience, and we're proud of our growing reputation for good and useful community service.

This year's GAA was fired up and ready from the beginning of volleyball season through the end of girls' basketball. This enthusiastic group of girls raised money for girls' athletics. The main fundraiser of the year was the annual Sadie Hawkins dance held in April. Other exciting events included the slumber party in the gym, the ice skating party and the selling of calendars and programs!

New Uniforms

Back

This year, Marian High School's band program reached an important plateau: through the tireless efforts of last year's band director, Mrs. Kirsten Bruce, and the generous support of Marian's PTG and Boosters, the school finally owns its own band uniforms. Arriving in late October, the new uniforms were put on public display for the first time at the Homecoming game on October 31. Marian's Drill Team also had its new uniforms, and that evening on our football field the groups combined to provide a visual event for which many had been hoping, working, and praying for many years.

Under the new director, Mr. Ron Imming, the band was built upon the foundation laid in previous years to bring to Marian quality music with as much variety as possible. Terry Benson, the band's drum major, was regularly on double duty, employing his talents as a trumpeter in the stands, and leading the band as the "man in charge" on the field. Marian can look forward now to steady growth for the Marching Crusaders.

The California Scholarship Federation is for the students with high G.P.A.'s. The moderator is Mrs. Tollefson, the president Janet Reid, Vice President Rosemary Boyle, Secretary Susan Compton, and Treasurer Cheri Harrold.

The National Honor Society is a group of students who are dedicated to their school work. They maintain the highest averages in their respective classes and most look forward to further education.

The Gauntlet: A Look Behind The Scenes Of Production

This year's Annual Staff consisted of many hardworking people willing to put effort into the production of the "Big Event" — our 1980-81 Gauntlet. Every one of these behind-the-camera people should be commended for their performance without whose patience and consistent effort this annual would never have been produced. These members, except for two, were new to yearbook class, but it has proven that inexperience has nothing to do with their TALENT.

The expectations of Varsity baseball are extremely high this year. Coach Gracio has seven strong returning players joined by many excellent players promoted from the J.V. squad. Four of the returning players received 1980 post-season honors: Center-fielder Art Calvert, Outfielder Tim Little, and Pitchers/Infielders John Rael and Jeff Welch. The team has a large pitching staff with an experienced group of fielders backing them up. These players have worked hard and should prove to be one of Marian's best.

Sports are more than the games people play. The show does not always reflect the endurance, patience, and consistent effort of all athletes. This page is to acknowledge all those teams and persons who have contributed to Marian's sports program and who have demonstrated their ability to persevere. We, the Gauntlet staff, bring you, the athlete, into our spotlight.

The 1981 league standings did not reflect the effort and enthusiasm put forth by the Marian Soccer team. This year's team was large, many of whom were underclassmen. The past year proved to be a learning experience which, in the long run, will pay off.

Faculty

A Tribute To Our Faculty

Year after year they come to us
Each with their questioning looks.
Year after year they left us

And year after year I wondered —
"Have I taught them the worthwhile things?'
Just some of the things they will need in life,
Be they miners or poets or kings?"

I have taught them the joy of success,
Thinking that was most worthwhile,
But have I taught them to be brave
And to meet defeat with a smile?

Have I taught them to love their homes,
Their school, their town, and their land?
Have I taught them to work together in peace,
And to lend a helping hand?

Have I taught these things and others,
That will help them be brave, kind and true?
If I have, my prayers have been answered.
And that's all the reward that is due.

The Administration

Mr. Jack Appel continues his busy schedule of representing Marian at innumerable outside meetings as well as attending to his business here on campus. Although not as readily visible to students as other faculty members, he has often been mentioned in the news in connection with some controversial matters. His main purpose, however, has been consistent: to uphold Marian's pride and dignity.

Mrs. Maria Tollefson accomplishes so many tasks here at Marian that it would be impossible to list them all. She is academic vice-principal, moderator of CSF and NHS, and, as in years past, has done a marvelous job of organizing both faculty and students. One of her new responsibilities this year is that of ASB moderator, and she is shown at work in that capacity here.

Mr. Jerry Judge — JTR — has continued to uphold high standards of discipline and academics in his role as vice-principal. The excellent job he does is evidenced by the respect he is shown on campus. His is also the announcer's voice at most home games, and he is very active in the Boosters' activities.

Office Staff

Miss Karen Chudy, Mr. Appel's secretary, attends to many duties throughout her day. If not at her own desk typing, answering questions, or taking care of faculty business matters, she is usually seen helping out in the front office.

Mrs. Rosie Viscontti (not pictured) is our school treasurer and accountant. She keeps track of all the financial ins and outs of the entire establishment — definitely not an enviable job, but one that she tackles head-on.

Mrs. Rose Cisneros, everyone's mother figure in the front office, must handle 500 small but vital matters in the course of a school day; everything from keeping attendance records to handing out safety pins or paper clips to needy students and faculty.

Faculty

Mrs. Maria Acosta's day at school is a long and varied one. Her main duty is that of school librarian, but she also teaches an English I class and a Spanish I class. Then it's back to the library during the students' off-hours to help them in their never-ending search for the information they need now.

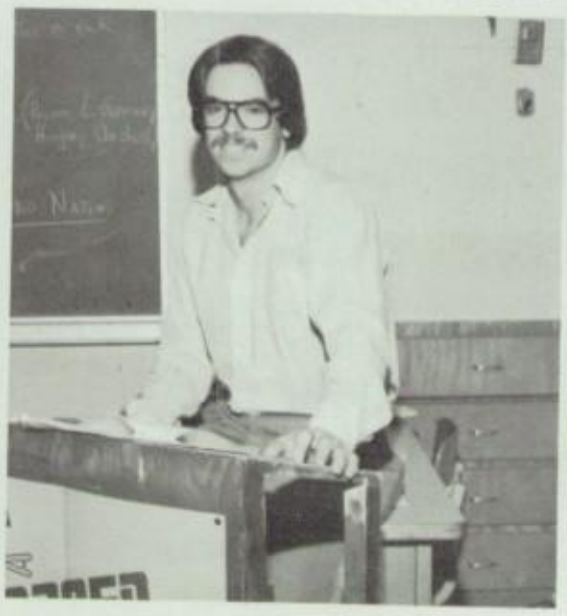
Mr. Mike Bajo is one of the quieter, more reserved members of the faculty. But he might crack a smile by January and maybe even tell a joke or two by May. His students in Physical Science, Biology, and Physics play "Stump the Teacher" often, but he claims they never win.

Mr. Steve Baker, the former bachelor-at-large of the faculty, keeps those science scholars busy with thousands of lectures, problems, and labs (love those goggles!). But his claims to fame are his marathon tests in Chemistry and Physics.

Mrs. Kirsten Bruce has this year taken on the task of coordinating the Christian Service Program, which has won such acclaim from the community. She also takes part in the Campus Ministry Program by working with the guitar group and singing for school masses. Mrs. Bruce also teaches all levels of French.

Mr. Jim Butler teaches part time at Marian, in the Science and PE departments. He coaches football in the fall and the very successful girls' track team in the spring season. He has made immense improvements in our darkroom facilities and has trained some excellent photographers.

Miss Gloria Cash is forever running like crazy to work through the millions of details of the seniors' futures with them. She counsels all of them as to college and career choices besides teaching a full load in the English department (English II and Honors English 4).

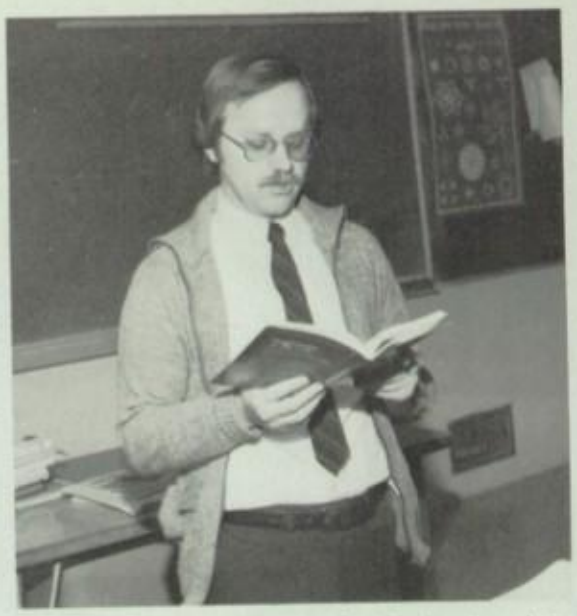


Mr. John Coleman, alias Mr. Sarcasm, is new to the faculty this year. He teaches U.S. Government, the senior social studies electives, and Math Fundamentals. Even with all this, he found time to coach softball and marry his high school sweetheart.

Mrs. Karen Day spent most of the fall sports season on the phone and in interviews with various sports reporters from throughout the county, all, of course, due to her fantastic success with her girls' volleyball team. She also teaches every class of girls' PE and is Girls' Athletic Director.

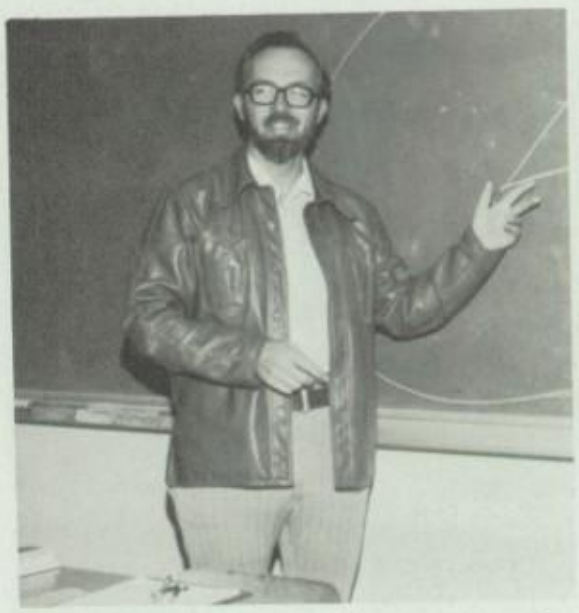
Mrs. Melanie Fields is a very compact person, but one who easily makes up for size with energy, brains, and those powerful vocal cords. She teaches Biology and Math to underclassmen, but takes special pride in her upper divison Marine Biology course.

Mrs. Mary Gabbard, Marian's own Super-Woman, continues her work as school nurse, as well as devoting hours to the drill team and their many functions. She also teaches 8th grade Science, Fundamental Biology, and Anatomy.



Mr. Philippe Gagne, known for his dry wit and his good-humored teasing (on both the giving and receiving ends) is a prominant member of Marian's cheering sections. He teaches Algebra II/Trig and Math Fundamentals.

Sister Gemma, lovechild of the sixties, livens up her Psychology classes through the use of personal narrative. She pursues her interest in this field by studying for a counseling degree. In the meantime, the juniors are benefitting from her expertise in American history.



Mr. Dennis Gorsich, our resident computer genius, has spent the year training the world's next batch of technological experts. He also teaches geometry — all those formulas and proofs fit right into that ordered mind of his.

Mrs. Annhara Henderson, the southern belle of the South Bay, has spent the year putting the seniors through their paces of vocabulary, grammar, and literature in English 4B. She really comes alive though in Speech and Drama classes — these come to her so naturally.

Mr. Jim Hylton, returning after a year's break from teaching (no more homework, no more books . . .) has taken up where he left off in the foreign language department. He is usually the very first arrival on campus in the morning, getting ready for Spanish I and II classes.

Mr. Ron Imming, a very welcome addition to the music department, has really spruced up the band with sharp new uniforms, paid for by his own hard-working students and a little help from their friends. He is also a member of the math department.

Sister Joan is an English I teacher, and also helps out in other varied capacities in that department. Sister Joan is known for her friendly disposition and patient, interested manner.

Mr. Bill Kinney, good for a laugh a minute, teaches mostly in the business department. He is the head football coach (he's great at rallies), and also teaches Fitness for Life. Mr. Kinney looks forward to a second career as an auxtioneer.

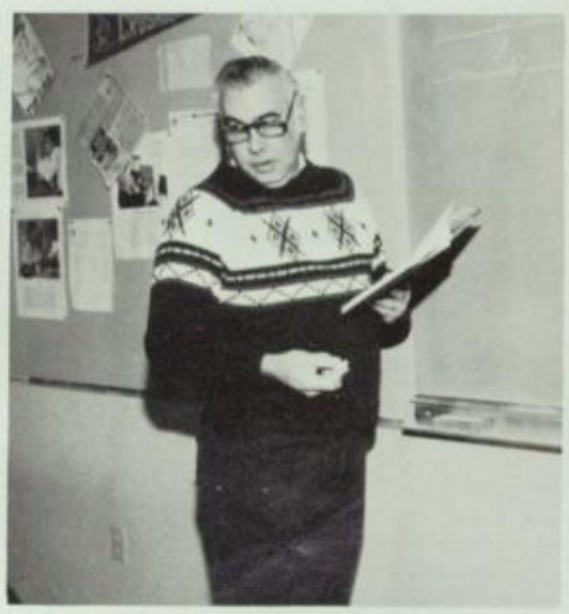
Mr. Rick Kessler assisted Mrs. Day in the volleyball program this year and also coaches the girls in basketball. This Mr. Nice Guy teaches Western Civilization and Boys' PE.

Mr. Ed Kostelnik teaches World Geography, but his favorite job is counseling and moderating the freshman class. His love for them is evident in his friendly and caring attitude, but he doesn't forget his former freshmen either!

Mrs. Diane Langworthy is a new addition to Marian's religion department. She teaches both sophomores and seniors (Christian Call and Moral Decision Making), and is very active in the retreat program. She is known to really make her students think.

Father Omer LeBlanc is a Religion I teacher and is also well known for the stimulating discussion he instigates in Moral Decision Making, a junior class. His office? Try the faculty workroom, his private domain.

Miss Colleen Mauricio is a member of both the English and Social Studies departments. Her English 3B students know of her demanding writing standards, but her journalism students, who put out the Page, know even better!



Mr. Richard Mello is usually seen in his room even at break and lunch supervising his hard working typing students or taking care of bookstore business. He teaches P.F.M. and Shorthand as well as putting all students through their required typing paces.

Father Jim O'Mahoney teaches World Geography, Christian Call, and California History. He is also our fiery soccer coach, and is known as our resident Irishman, replete with songs, stories, and a real Irish brogue.

Mrs. Janice Quiel is especially known and loved by two groups of students: her developmental reading classes, and the cheerleaders, of whom she is moderator. Mrs. Quiel's patience and hard work with her students pays off when we see the rising achievement of our students' test scores.

Father Bill Rowland is the head counselor at Marian, and therefore draws the awesome task of organizing minicourse week. Besides this huge headache of his, he spends his time working in the Campus Ministry program, often saying masses for retreat groups, and teaching Scripture to seniors.

Mr. Joe Schanberger replaced Mrs. Terrell in Algebra I, Calculus, and Algebra Topics for the second semester of the school year. He adapted quickly to the Marian philosophy and system after having spent past years in some interesting teaching positions elsewhere.

Mr. Joe Sobkowiak, a favorite among Marian's slave traders, is a member of the Social Studies (Western Civ and American History) and PE departments. He also coached a successful JV basketball team. Mr. Sobkowiak is the ultimate in "cool."

Sister Suzanne Marie spends most of her well-organized time schedule in counseling the sophomores and working in the Campus Ministry department, especially in the area of retreat planning. She also teaches English II and Scripture.

Mrs. Jill Terrell, so well known and loved for her gentle, understanding nature, left mid-year to attend to an event even more blessed than her Algebra I, Calculus, and Algebra Topics lessons: the birth of her first child. The seniors especially miss her, but first things first, right?

Sister Vivian, the one and only member of the faculty who has been teaching at Marian since the day its doors were opened, continues her outstanding classes in the areas of Fine Arts and Religion. Even after all these years, her energy is boundless!

Mr. Mike Wilga, a particularly popular teacher especially among the football linebackers he coaches, has responsibilty for a full class load of Advanced Health, Math Fundamentals, and Physical Science. Also an honorary member of the Skoal Brothers.

Mrs. Laura Wraith teaches in the spaced-out regions of room A-11. She moderates the yearbook staff at B period and teaches sophomore English 3 periods a day, but her special love is for the seniors in English 4A. She also heads the annual candy drive.

Miss Cheryl Young is a very friendly person, always eager to help any student or fellow faculty member in a time of need. She teaches English I as well as 3A and 3B, and also helps with the girls' track team.

Mrs. Mary Parker, who was honored by the press this year for her dedicated service in the Marian snack bar, has been a mainstay here for many years. She runs a smooth and happy operation, keeping everyone's stomachs well satisfied.

Regina, we shared a lot of laughs in Coleman's classes. Oh yes and Mr. Bajo's Biology class too. That was such a trip. You're a real crazy girl, but level headed too. I hope all your plans work out, have a great life, I'm sure you will. And don't forget me.

What can I write to a sexy gal like you?. You have great genitals? or what? Reg I have had some great times with you especially that time we were waiting for ??? and I told Doug the honest truth that Maria wanted to have sex and do everything else with him. What about that time we went pied in those boxes boy those were the days. I'll never forget your illegal Slumber parties green bathrooms that looked like boy did I get drunk!! If that house could talk you would. be dead! and So would we! How about Viris Bridal Shower and Maids great imitation of Connie Francis. But I think the best year ever was junior year. We still had our Vivi Coopes and boy did we have fun at all those sock hops and football games I do not know how we are all still alive! Thank-you for always talking me into getting off and buying the B---! I never thought they would sell it to my (sic) I look like I'm 15 probably because I had a gun in my hand that might be why maybe not! I'll never forget the SouthWest football game when no one could park that boat you call a car and you crashed into the wall the trash cans and a couple of people boy that was real funny Too bad they threw you in jail for 4 months. Never forget Viris Wedding and how Viviana got pregnant (sick) Boy you sure made a dicky bridesmaid!!
